

Emergency Preparedness

Disasters come in all shapes and sizes, and sometimes more than one occurs at a time but the most important thing to remember is that they are survivable. While it might sound like a broad generalization to say so, the truth is that the same few key preparedness tips apply to all disasters, therefore, getting ready for one can mean getting ready for them all.

Planning Resources

INFOGRAPHICS

- NEW - Preparedness Month 2023 Images and Graphics

VIDEOS & PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS (PSA)

- Emergency Preparedness Videos
- PSA: Learn your Evacuation Route Version 3
- "Seat of Your Pants" PSA
- National Preparedness Month: Prepared Not Scared

ARTICLES

- The Full Data for the 2020 National Household Survey has been Released on OpenFEMA
- "On-Site Power"

WEBSITES

- Hazard Viewer \(DOGAMI\)
- FEMA Preparedness Month

Related Links

- FEMA Ready.gov
- American Red Cross

- CDC
- The Ultimate Guide to Pet Security