6.Please tell us why you chose the answer just above that you did:

I live in the small community of Gearhart

The map appears to follow city boundaries

The boundary incorporates those citizens who I either see frequently, associate with and share common interests in our hero area.

Except for Astoria, which has diversity of opinions, the rest of the communities in the county are fairly well represented by current district boundaries.

I think it's important to keep whole cities in one district!

People who understand what those in the district wants, and keep us united

The boundaries are geographically connected.

These dostricts give a voice for everyone.

I live in Astoria and obviously District One covers most if not all of the city.

The regions on the map also seem to correspond to my idea of regional identity and the identity of those I know. My district seems to make sense.

People who live on the coast have similar concerns, so that's my community, and the district lines reflect that.

Living in Gearhart (District 2), I consider my community affinity to skew more towards Seaside than Warrenton, but I would not share the same values as the large geographic swath of rural folks in district 5.

The Knappa community is well represented in current district boundaries

Current Districts seem to respect multiple communities of interest. Some are more urban and some a rural/urban mix.

I like the idea of districts each having a similar percentage of city, transition, rural communities. My hope would be that representatives would be incentivized to find solutions across political boundaries. I suspect that districts drawn to create "urban" and "rural" districts would incentive tribalism and solution making.

These are definite community areas.

It appears that the population density is/was pretty evenly distributed.

1) separated from Clatsop Plains but are in the same school district. Astoria divided into 2 districts. The separation in Seaside with the Northern dist 5 boundary reaching into district 2. Can't help but think there is some urban vs rural, political party influence on that.

people who decidedly don't want to live in Astoria and many who would never live out in the country. It's probably harder on the commissioner, but it also means that the commissioner has a broader perspective about constituents. Even though Astoria is hardly urban, it is compared to the very rural parts of the county. and having a district that is only Astoria residents could pit one urban district against the remaining mostly rural districts.

my city is in one district

I live in district 5 so there is a lot of territory covered. I do wonder about higher concentration areas along the coast that may feel closer to other districts

The boundaries are fairly close to incorporated cities and/or outlying areas that have commonalities.

The districts are divided mostly by city and neighborhood.

Yes

closest to my observations

Inhabitants here have different priorities than in more rural areas of the county. I think that the district that I live in has a good boundary that I believes includes many people of say, different backgrounds, ethnicities and political affiliations that all live together. Those individuals may disagree on may topics but they are all affected by changes in their district that are specific to their region, so I believe it is good that they can all share a voice to make some different decisions regarding their direction they would like to go.

I think the districts could be drawn more accurately to common interests but at least the current districts do not lump all the rural areas in with urban ones

I'm in a coastal area & coastal communities should be in teh same district because they have similar needs. The same with mountain/rural, etc…

We are in Arch Cape, which appears to be the largest district in terms of square miles. We are diverse and spread out.

My community in Central Astoria seems united and well represented. I don't think that is the case in other districts.

I think keeping areas that have a common ideology together is good.

I live in district 4, in upper town. Here, it feels less tied to Astoria downtown than you might think. I go to the farmers market at the Svenson Grange, and the buy nothing Facebook group I'm in connects this area, so i have met and exchanged gifts mostly with people in Svenson and emerald heights.

Based on map and numbers seems accurate.

Geographic areas are kept mostly together.

They keep MY community together. But it also groups my RURAL area with the majority of city limits. The majority of my rural area has opposing views of the inside city limits people in our proposed district. I understand to try and keep populations equal in each district, but not at the cost of drowning out rural voices.

My district seems like it pretty much follows the guidelines I just prioritized. It's geographically the same, not split into different sections, and it's all urban rather than rural. It seems fair.

I don't 'feel like," I think about things like this.

The district as shown allows for commonality by geography, by lifestyle similarity, and by local governmental boundaries.

I believe that my general area is fairly united politically and needs-wise

Seemed best of the four.

n/a

I feel that the current district boundaries are working pretty well, although changes will need to be made as our population grows, they should be drawn in a way that represents everyone as fairly and equally as possible.

I am in district 3. 3 has a well balanced identity. It's the rural areas of Lewis and Clark, Olney, Young's river which tend to think alike, and it is balanced with central Astoria which tend to think slightly differently. The population balance is well offset between rural and city

No

Current lines make pretty good sense.

The communities of Seaside, Gearhart, and Cannon Beach are together. They comprise the attendance areas for Seaside School District.

I chose that answer because my entire town is within the same boundary. Gearhart doesn't look like it has been divided.

my community pulls together and we watch out for eachother

I live in Seaside, and most of Seaside and our neighboring towns are in the same

I live in Clatsop County. Being the most densely populated, our physically small boundary aids in keeping the community tight-knit.

Geographic and community connections are important. The current boundaries are reasonably good

We live in the rural area which is perfect.ooo

I live in Astoria and it looks like that district is the city plus.

the current map keeps astoria mostly whole

We spend much of our our time in/around Astoria and make use of its services. It's important we have a connection to it as a community

Property in common

My current district incorporates myself and my neighbors. In doing so we can work together on local issues such and traffic and economic growth

Porque la communidad la hacemos nosotres no una linea diusora

Creo que es importante informaise

Stay together all the time

Hispanic community need to stay together all the time

I think it is working ok so far

We fell that make us more together helping others

Porque me paresieron mejor pura mi

Porque es importante mantenes mi comunidad unida

Porque es (handwriting unclear) social importante (handwriting unclear)

Por que por lo que se escojen por barias ciudades

como estes eventos nos unimos la mayoría de ispanos

I live in Astoria, near a district boundary. My city is separated into 3 parts in 3

The coastal areas should be in the same district whenever possible since issues pertaining to the ocean coast are often not related to or do not impact communities just a couple miles inland. The river communities also need to work together as they to have specific issues others dont.

Seems odd that portion of astoria falls in separate districts that each stretch way out into surrounding communities

I would like to see the water source for Astoria included into our area. I also think too much of the forest is broken off into it's own area, helping the destruction of the forest by greedy forest harvester.

I live in Astoria, which is split into three districts.

I'm in a rural area but Astoria is also in my district.

Some of the areas have little "peninsulas" where they look like they should belong to one district, but are actually part of another.

The larger cities are divided in some awkward ways.

The community that support the most revenue, deals with the most tourist traffic get less support/ services.

I live in clatsop county. Many Portland voters have second homes here and vote in clatsop county. This causes huge issues and division when the "elected officials" do not represent the community it is "supposed" to represent.

Clatsop county is mostly rural and does not have the same issues as Portland.

It appears to divide

It seems the interests in Astoria are separate from the others, especially 4 and 5

Because currently my community is divided.

I live on Hwy 202, which is chopped up by districts 3 and 4

Every section has properties in the same price range, therefore forcing an economic class divide.

You can tell when you've crossed into another city based on the milestones.

all of Seaside should be in one district

Why would our 2 largest cities be divided in half? This spells a credibility problem for the County in redistricting. Each area - rural or urban, should have a unified

Warrenton needs someone other than Proud Boys living there its districted as rural and urban except for seaside and cannon beach which are one massive district, and cannon beach does not pay their fair share into the seaside programs that they use.

Part of Astoria is represented by the Warrenton commissioner! I did not know that! That is not in our best interests. Astoria and Warrenton residents have distinctly different values.

I feel my commissioner is focused on the needs of rural Knappa and not Astoria.

The uneven distribution of population within districts favors some groups.

boundary separates my house from bulk of seaside, which is my address

I live in Seaside and the boundaries for the district split the city into 2 different

I live in a rural area and am connected to a city

Not all of Seaside is in the same district.

I think Seaside, Gearhart and Cannon Beach should be together and have more common interests; as does Warrenton/Hammond and Astoria.

They are segregated. 4 & 5 should not be lumped rural area with city areas. 4&5 should be split east / west.

123 should be combined, they are more like communities

I am in district 4 and do not feel represented by my highly partisan commissioner.

other parts of districts get like I live in Seaside the south county and we do not get a say as much about decisons in our district as say Astoria and the north part of the district get.

Liberals on one side and conservatives on the other, therefore we are divided.

It contains portions of two cities with different socio-economic interests.

Geography drives interest and quality of life.

I live in the City of Astoria which has 3 Commissioners.

South slope Astoria has 0 in common with Warrenton and Hammond. It's the same thing as making the majority of OR congressional districts go into Portland. It would be better if Clatsop Plains, Cullaby--even Surf Pines be part of the Warrenton district than South Slope Astoria.

Looks nice on the MAP but Astoria has so many commissioners and the rest of us are left at the tail end.

I am in District 4. It should not be attached to the city of Astoria in any way.

Astoria is divided into three separate districts.

I currently live a few blocks from downtown Astoria but my district is mostly in Warrenton, so I feel issues important to me are not weighed as fairly with my District 5 is so large it covers several culturally distinct communities. District 1 is small and just covers the area around Warrenton, which is similar.

Lewis and Clark, youngs river and Walooskee areas share common interests. There is no reason incorporated downtown should be part of this district. Pam Wev and her disregard for our community interests has made it painfully clear that she does not value a more rural perspective. Likewise, it is a disservice to Seasie and Jewell communities alike that the entire south county is ONE district while clatsop plains is divided into two. Rural voices need to be heard and that is increasingly more difficult if districts get municipalities lumped in to adjacent rural areas.

District 5 is too large and diverse.

Astoria is split in two.

Seaside, Warrenton, and Astoria are all split with different districts. This might be nice, however, to have the cities split so you have two voices for the same town.

Astoria is represented by 3 different districts

Warrenton's present and future growth must be considered.

I live in JeffersGarden and we are on the boarders of Astoria and Warrenton I would like to combine the two and or give JeffersGarden the abalitiy to vote on city

All city population is in one district

the lines are drawn irratically

Clatsop County commissioners should live in CLATSOP COUNTY!!!! PERIOD!

Tillamook County residents should not be allowed to hold any public elected office the majority rural areas. Perhaps consider designating districts by density of population compared to land/lots. Due to the fact that the average rural residents pay more in taxes, they should have a balanced district to give them a fair voice in our government.

It cuts southern seaside and cannon beach off from seaside and gearhart

Seems to separate attitudes by district and drive a stake between us.

Astoria is corrupt and their politics are seeping over the bridge.

& Seaside on the current map. The interests/needs of people within a certain city can't be protected well enough if they're split right down the middle, geographically.

Beach. I see more connectivity of community among cities of Hammond and Warrenton. I see Astoria as its own entity, as the largest city in the county. I see more connectivity of community among cities of Jewell and Hamlet. I see more connectivity of community among Knappa, Westport and communities along the Hwy 30 corridor.

I dont think part of Astoria should be represented along with Lewis and Clark. They have very different interests.

Live just outside of Warrenton but in District 2, which is more affiliated with Gearhart and Seaside.

The needs of the City of Astoria population are much different from the needs of the inincorporated areas in District 3.

Seaside is divided.

liberal moderate democratic and rural more conservative Republican. If the only parts of the county that increases are rural these maps will further divisions and slant voting blocks.

liberal moderate democratic and rural more conservative Republican. If the only parts of the county that increases are rural these maps will further divisions and slant voting blocks.

Need to reflect community population locations

La comunidad hispana se aparta mucho por la diferencia de idioma

I do not like Astoria being split in two.

Un poco porque, Comunidad Latina no tiene acceso a varios servicios pur estar piera de los limites

I have felt that what is most important to Clatsop County is money. If money can continue to move north from the south of the county then by all means do it. Wet lands and environmental concerns don't count at all. If what ever decision is being considered would result in more revenue, ... then by all means approve it.

No sabia nada del distrito

No se

Porque no sabia na da de los distritos

Porque muchas veces no toman en cuenta nuestras propuestas

THEY MAKE MY WEALTHY COMMUNITY DILUTED BY LESS SO

I am just learning about local politics

I haven't heard a lot of issues for or against the current boundaries.

I'm new to Seaside, 2months

my community does not follow the same boundaries as these? my community is a lot smaller. it consists of my neighborhood and my church and my shopping district

Astoria is split into three districts. I understand that with its large population it can't fit into a single district, but it seems like we should be able to draw the lines so that it only needs to be divided into two districts.

I dont know info

They kind of do neither but the actual map is not logical

I'm glad to be separate from Warrenton & Astoria, but don't feel a great deal I common with Gearhart or Seaside... And certainly don't relate to those living the rural / agricultural life away from the coast.

New to Clatsop, not sure about local politics yet.

Don't know enough about it

I don't have enough information, I've only lived here a couple of years and haven't engaged too much with the county commissioners nor do I have a full grasp of the local political landscape

El mapa no da información clara sobre qué ciudades/poblaciones están incluidas en cada distrito.

All of my city is in one district, but it also includes part of another city, and a large area of sparsely populated rural area where the interests and concerns are very different to the coastal area.

I just didn't ever know the boundaries before.

I don't engage with my community by what District I live in.

I just don't the demographics well enough to say.

This map looks a bit gerrymandered to me. Gerrymandering is generally for personal gain and greed, and I am dead set against it. I'm really not sure if that's the case here, I will be looking into that.

I haven't done the research.

Some are similar and some are not.

I don't have any idea how the Commissioners specifically represent their districts.

I don't get enough communications from our Commissioner.

Looks like a small area

I'm not sure how the boundaries work would like more information on this council and planning commission meets closely, but have never done so with the county. i think the county needs to do a better job of communicating with constituants.

I do not have enough information or knowledge about the current boundaries.

I think because of population growth we do need to look at current district boundaries, but I think it shouldn't be partisan effort to set up boundaries that

I see Astoria is divided between two districts but I don't know how that is effecting Astoria.

The current boundaries keep neighbors together, and may separate those with a more rural outlook from those with a more urban/surburban outlook.

I don't know the boundaries, I know the commissioner.

Not enough information.

New to the area

I don't know enough to say

I have not heard of an imbalance in resources based in any district but have heard about commissionors that have self-serving intentions, which is very frustrating.

Because I don't know!

I'm not informed enough to answer intelligently

Lived here less than 2 years......not sure about this question

Astoria has three different districts, but I don't know if that's divisive or unifying. I don't know why they were set that way.

n/a separate from District 2 and Astoria. Walluski, Lewis and Clark, should be paired with Knappa, Brownsmead, and Westport Areas, along with Jewell. South County (Cannon Beach, Arch Cape, and Cove Beach) should be seperate from rural Jewel and Hwy 26 area.

I've only lived here a few years.

I don't have a good answer.

I'm more focused on the Cannon Beach and Seaside communities. District 5 encompasses a lot of rural area that may not be applicable to the core.

areas. The question is: should districts have broad-based economies that benefit all of its communities, or should they focus on specific, hyper-local industries with enterprise zones? District 5 for example, incorporates both Canon Beach (pop. center, tourism) and vast areas of agriculture (forestry). I suppose the ideal district successfully incorporates different communities by alienating the fewest number of people.

I don't have enough information.

I have not lived in the area long enough.

It's the truth.

I haven't heard much about boundaries in this area

I'm not clear of the current district boundary

Porque no estoy muy informada respecto al distrito

Porque nececito sabar mas sobre eso

I don't know enough about the current boundaries

I haven't seen a huge change in that

I'm continuosly learning about redistricting, statewide I understand it and County wise still learning.

En realidad creo que mi comunidad o la mayeria viven en pueblos diferentes al lugar en el que yo vivo y muy poca de mi comunidad vive done yo vivo yo no sabia que habia distritos

Yo no saba los distritos de la comunidad

Porque no estoy segura que quiere desir la pregunta

Leave the boundaries as they are now. This looks like Republican gerrymandering
